

Kristi Fox – CHQ IS Project Manager – Receives Project Manager of the Year Award

Congratulations to IS Project Manager Kristi Fox, recent recipient of the coveted Project Manager of the Year Award - Small Projects from the Space Coast Chapter of PMI (Project Management Institute)! This prestigious award recognizes her exceptional project management skills and adherence to proven PM methodology, both of which have also earned her the respect of her coworkers and customers.

After completing her Project Management Professional (PMP) certification last year, Kristi quickly set the standard for successful project leadership in the IT arena. She has steered several project efforts, most notably the roll-out of the BCD Oracle Financials Consolidation Phases 1 – 5, which came in on time and under budget, and significantly reduced the monthly closing efforts at BCD and supported the first major launch of the Order Broker system for the HSS Automation business.

Division project manager Joe Cox personally acknowledged Kristi's efforts, saying, "Kristi has displayed a high level of leadership in managing the Oracle to PeopleSoft Financials Conversion Project. Her functional knowledge combined with her technical knowledge has allowed her to understand and communicate with all levels of the organizational team. She takes the lead in all management status meetings with BCD leadership and with IT leadership, and is always on top of maintaining project schedule and budget. Her leadership, dedication, and responsiveness, while maintaining a level and calm demeanor, have just been outstanding. Kristi's attitude and willingness to do whatever it takes to make the project a success is commendable."

Chief Information Officer Bill Miller adds, "Kristi Fox is a tremendous asset to the Information Technology community. Kristi's leadership in guiding this past year's PeopleSoft Fiscal Closing process, for a $5 billion dollar corporation, is yet another example of her commitment to process and program management disciplines. We are fortunate to have Kristi as part of our team!"

Again, we congratulate Kristi Fox on her well-earned accomplishment!
